    The number of applications during FY2020 has decreased by 26.78% compared to FY2019. The decrease can be attributed to the general decrease in violent crimes in the District. Despite the overall decrease in violent crimes, the number of homicides in the District have increased by 8.19%. Also, the decrease in applications received during FY2020 may have been an effect of Court building closures due to COVID-19. The CVCP Office coordinated with other victim advocacy programs to assist victims with submitting applications electronically.

2. The average length of time to process an application for claim eligibility for compensation

    Count days from time of receipt of application to decision. 63

    Please explain your state's procedure for processing an application for claim eligibility, from time of receipt of application to decision. i. 1) Applications and supporting documentation are filed in-person, via mail, and via email. The "Intake Claims Examiner" reviews the applications and supporting documents for eligibility. An independent Claims Examiner will perform a quality review (secondary eligibility review) before the application is accepted. 2) The Administrative Assistant enters the application, scans the application and supporting documents, and makes an assignment to the Claims Examiner in the case management system. A physical file jacket is prepared for each claim. 3) After assignment, Claims Examiners review claims and supporting documents, and request additional information - if needed. 4) Payment requests are then prepared and submitted for approval. 4) The Program Director and/or Program Accounting Officer review claims and payment requests submitted. Eligible payment requests are submitted to the Budget & Finance Division. 5) The Budget & Finance Division prepare and mail out payments to vendors/payees.

3. Does your state have a victim satisfaction survey?

    No

4. Please describe any emerging/major issues or notable trends that were encountered in your state that had an impact on your program's ability to meet the needs of crime victims during the reporting period.

    The District of Columbia has an ongoing issue of insufficient housing resources for homeless residents. Many of our victims are victimized while living on streets. In addition, recent changes in the statute allowed for an increase in the funeral expenses cap limit. Due to Covid-19, the program temporarily increased emergency housing and food limits to aid victims; however, there was no increase in funding to the program.

5. Please describe in detail efforts taken to serve Victims of Federal Crime during the reporting period.

    The program maintains regular contact with the US Attorney s Office, which prosecutes federal crimes. Many federal crimes are not included in the list of eligible crimes for the program (e.g. human trafficking, financial crimes, etc.). The program may use related crimes to assist victims of federal crimes (e.g. sexual assault for victims of human trafficking, child abuse for victims of child pornography, etc.).

6. Please describe any notable activities during the reporting period that improved the process of victim compensation services.

    The program continues to maintain and improve communication and collaboration with the District s government agencies and various victim services providers to coordinate victim compensation. The program also developed a new pandemic/COOP (Continuity of Operations Plan) process that includes a new email address along with business practices to serve applicants remotely. The program is offering the majority of services to the public while working remotely.

7. Please describe in detail ways in which your state used VOCA Administrative funds and the impact of these funds on the state's ability to improve victim compensation services during the reporting period.

    VOCA administrative funds have assisted with the salary of one Claims Examiner and one Assistant Claims Examiner. These two additional staff are needed to expedite the processing of claims and payments.

8. Were there any laws, initiatives, or policy changes in your state regarding victim compensation during the reporting period? If yes, please briefly describe them and their impact.

    The CVC Advisory Commission was revived with bimonthly meetings to review possible outdated statutes and rules. The CVC Appeals Board also began to hear appeals on victim compensation eligibility and payment requests. Additionally, changes in the statute were made that: 1) increased funeral expenses from $6,000 to $10,000, and 2) allowed the program not to consider the health insurance of a dependent as a collateral source.

9. Please describe system-coordination efforts with prosecutors, law enforcement, courts, U.S. attorneys' offices, tribal systems, State VOCA Victim Assistance Coordinator, or other key personnel within the criminal justice system in your state to reduce barriers to victims who may apply to receive victim compensation.

The program maintains regular contacts with law enforcement agencies, victim advocates, Office of the Attorney General, and USAO advocates who refer victims to the program. Also, the victim compensation program is administered by the District of Columbia Courts with many victims referred directly while attending court hearings, or when filing petitions for civil protection order. The key contacts also have representatives on the CVC Advisory Commission.

10. Please explain any public outreach efforts to improve awareness of your program.

The program assists victims of one city (District of Columbia), instead of a state with many counties or municipalities. Thus, most of services providers (e.g. hospitals, funeral homes) are aware of the benefits provided by the program. The program also engages in regular contact with victim services organizations (e.g. DC SAFE, Network for Victims Recovery DC, Ayuda, etc.) to coordinate assistance to victims. Finally, CVCP staff members are required to provide outreach during the performance year.

11. Please list any other outcome measure(s) that are reported to the governor, legislature, or other state entity that have not been reported in this submission. Provide the actual measure(s). The data may be reported separately in your progress report.

12. Please provide any additional comments that are helpful to improving the Victim Compensation state and/or federal program.
