NARRATIVE QUESTIONS

1. Please explain any significant change in the number of applications received during the reporting period.
The program did not experience a significant change in the number of applications received during this reporting period.
2. The average length of time to process an application for claim eligibility for compensation
Count days from time of receipt of application to decision. 46

Please explain your state's procedure for processing an application for claim eligibility, from time of receipt of application to decision. For compensation claims, after receipt of a claim, the program sends a claim summary to the prosecutor's office in the state judicial or federal district where the crime occurred, requesting that the office provide pertinent case details and feedback. The examiner reviews the supporting documentation filed with the application, communicates requests and statuses to the claimant, and awaits any further documentation and the report of the prosecutor's office. The examiner makes a recommendation, including any payment recommendations, and a supervisory staff member reviews the recommendation and file documents to conclude the claim. We send a decision to the claimant outlining the decision and the right to file an appeal. If a claimant agrees with an approval decision, the claimant may request that the payments be processed. If a claimant disagrees with a decision, the claimant may file an appeal with the Tennessee Claims Commission. Any Decisions on appealed claims are processed in a manner like the process of an initial claim. Forensic claims are nearly identical except for the role of the prosecutor and the right to appeal.
3. Does your state have a victim satisfaction survey?
No
4. Please describe any emerging/major issues or notable trends that were encountered in your state that had an impact on your program's ability to meet the needs of crime victims during the reporting period.
There have not been any issues or trends encountered in the State of Tennessee impacting the program's ability to meet the needs of crime victims.
5. Please describe in detail efforts taken to serve Victims of Federal Crime during the reporting period.
Coordination with the FBI liaisons and United States Attorneys Offices is an effective way to reach federal crime victims, including liaisons attendance at trainings we provide to advocates statewide. This training equips them with the eligibility and benefit information on the Tennessee Criminal Injuries Compensation Program. The USAOs also are integral to information gathering and provide a prosecutor's feedback on all cases (as part of our program procedures).
6. Please describe any notable activities during the reporting period that improved the process of victim compensation services.
There have not been any notable activities during the reporting period.
7. Please describe in detail ways in which your state used VOCA Administrative funds and the impact of these funds on the state's ability to improve victim compensation services during the reporting period.
We do not use the administrative funds provision of the grant.
8. Were there any laws, initiatives, or policy changes in your state regarding victim compensation during the reporting period? If yes, please briefly describe them and their impact.
The statute was expanded to allow for a victim's aunt, uncle, cousin, or individual related by blood to file for funeral and burial expenses. In addition, the statute expanded good cause exception for cooperation and late reporting for victims of human trafficking. Furthermore, human trafficking victims are now eligible for Pain and Suffering.
9. Please describe system-coordination efforts with prosecutors, law enforcement, courts, U.S. attorneys' offices, tribal systems, State VOCA Victim Assistance Coordinator, or other key personnel within the criminal justice system in your state to reduce barriers to victims who may apply to receive victim compensation.
Ongoing communications within the justice system, particularly recurring meetings with representatives from the prosecutors offices and advocates statewide, provide continuity and improved awareness of the program. Prosecutors assist in various ways to improve the information we receive. Advocates attend trainings we provide year-round. Since 2020, all training is provided virtually. Information potential claimants need to file is available on our program website, along with the link to file electronically. We assist claimants regarding how certain items can be obtained to meet the claim requirements. We continue to assist with our states annual ceremony honoring homicide victims (Tennessee Season to Remember).
